We're all learning. Join CGCC faculty who recently attended OSU's Anti-Racist Teaching, Language and Assessment conference for an interactive workshop on how to build anti-racist practices in teaching and learning. If you're taught college for at least one year, you probably know what the research shows: students' interest and motivation decline sharply around the mid-term. This is even more true for vulnerable students, some of whom never regain their moja. What to do? Several of us have been taking a course on student success through the Motivation Lab, and we have a few strategies to share with you. So please join us, to learn and share motivational strategies, challenges and successes.

Schedule of Professional Development Offerings 2022-23

Faculty Coffee Hour:

An opportunity for faculty to share, discuss and celebrate strategies, challenges, tools, and successes. This year we will host F2F options (alternating between campuses), usually with Zoom accessibility (though rarely recorded).

October 14th: Supporting Students

How are your students doing? What strategies are you using to meet their needs? What support systems are they accessing outside the classroom? Is anyone falling through the cracks? An open, constructive conversation about supporting our students.
Fri, 11-12:00, Learning and Library Commons, TD, Zoom available

November 18th: Using Analogy in the Classroom (Rob Kovacich)

Fri, 11-12:00, Hood River Campus, Zoom available
Arrive at coffee hour with your favorite teaching analogy.

December 2nd: Instructional and Student Services Mixer

Come for an informal meet-up with instructors, advisors and other student support team members. Refreshments served.
Fri, 11-12:00, Learning and Library Commons, TD. F2F only.

January 17th: Rigor in Instruction (Zip Krummel)

Should academic rigor be a component of community colleges? Do we even know what it is? Join Zip for a rigorous conversation!
Tues, 8-9:00am, Hood River Campus, Zoom available

February 7th: Spotlight on Early Childhood Education

Come learn about the fabulous things happening in our ECE Program.
(Tues) 8-9:00am, Learning and Library Commons, TD, Zoom available

March 7th: Revisiting Equity and HSI: How are We Doing?

(Tues) 8-9:00am, Hood River Campus, Zoom available

April 14th: Student Voices

Our students share what works and what needs work at CGCC.
(Fri) 12-1:00pm, Learning and Library Commons, TD, Zoom available

May 12th: Spotlight on Shakespeare?

(Fri) 12-1:00pm, Hood River Campus, Zoom available

June 2 (Fri): Closure and Celebration.

12-1:00pm, Learning and Library Commons, TD. F2F only.

Professional Development Workshops

Offered twice per term, these 1.5 hour recorded Zoom sessions offer training in a variety of topics related to instruction in all modalities. Adjuncts receive pay at the special projects rate for attending and/or viewing (usually upon completion of a brief survey or assignment).

October 18th: The Joy of Assessment

Tues, 5:15-6:45 pm (Leigh Hancock and other faculty)

Midterms roll around, major essays are due, and numbers start appearing in the gradebook-in short, the honeymoon is over. How can we maintain the fun and joy of teaching all the way through the assessment process? And what are we assessing anyway? Come prepared to try out a few assessment strategies and see what might work for your class!

November 8th: Contract Grading: A Deep Dive into a more Equitable Grading Strategy

Tues, 5:15-6:45 pm Zoom

(Jessie Herrada Nance, Tina Ontiveros, Leigh Hancock)

Come learn how you might use Contract Grading, an assessment strategy that emphasizes process and labor over a polished product.

January 23rd: Deep Teaching: an Inclusive Pedagogical Philosophy

Wed, 5-6:30pm, Zoom

(Emilie Miller)

Emilie Miller, through a grant from NSF, is participating in a yearlong professional development opportunity in Deep Teaching. She'll be presenting on her experience and sharing ways we can deepen our teaching practice.

February 13th: Flipping the Classroom

Wed, 5-6:30pm, Zoom

(Jim Pytel)

April 20th (Th): TBD

May: 18th (Th) Using Digital Storytelling in Your Courses (4:30-6:00) (Tori Stanek, Jessie Herrada Nance)

Digital Storytelling is an amazing way to bring relevance, community engagement and 21st century skills into your classroom. Come hear about how instructors are using digital storytelling--and how you can too!
